

Prevailing Wage in MO – True/False Quiz

1. For prevailing wage to be calculated, there must be a minimum of 1000 reported hours per occupational title per county. True Or False
2. Pipefitter and plumber hours are now considered the same occupational title for reporting prevailing wage in Missouri. True Or False
3. Employers may now use entry-level unregistered workers for on-the-job training (OJT) on prevailing wage projects at the rate of 50% of the journeyman rate. The combined total of OJT workers, registered apprentices and registered trainees shall not exceed a 1:1 ratio to Journeyman on a project. True Or False
4. Prevailing wage will be set based on the wages and fringes of the most reported hours by county. True Or False
5. When >1000 hours are reported by occupational title by county, the prevailing wage is set by averaging the prevailing wage of all contiguous counties. True Or False
6. Prevailing Wage is set for all projects that have state/county/city funding. True Or False
7. Prevailing wage reporting can ONLY be done by contractors. True Or False
8. The new prevailing wage laws went into effect on August 28, 2018, therefore contractors only need to report hours worked after that date. True Or False
9. Overtime rates default to the collective bargaining agreement that covers the jurisdiction of each occupational title. True Or False
10. Missouri has established the following 7 state holidays, which supersede the local collective bargaining agreement stated holidays. True Or False